Who is eventphotography.com?

eventphotography.com is an accredited member of the Australian Institute of Professional Photographers. Our service is unique. We have a team of experienced formal photographers that come to you. But unlike traditional formal photographers, we make our images available online at a secure, password protected website. Here, our clients have access to all the images taken during their event including red carpet arrivals, group portraits and photos of the event itself. Simply download your images as often as you like... to print, share with friends or keep on file.
